"HAMLET," AS GIVEN IN A PAVILION--VAUDEVILLE NOVELTIES.

For the first time since their long engagement at the imperial Theater, Law-rence Hanley and Victory Bateman ap-peared in a Shakespeareau revival at Noerner's Garden last evening.
Only a valiant performer like "Larry" would attempt such a production at season. "Hamlet" was the play, with Hamley as the Dane, and Miss Bateman in the role of Ophelia. To those who had seen them in the old times, the presentation was a bit straige. Both seemed change, and the surroundings of course, were entirely differ-ent. Not that their art had deteriorated. It was a most satisfactory performance, for a summer garden. There were hints in the heavier scenes of other and more notable occasions, and the few reminiscenpersons present were quick to appland.

But, without Coulter Brinker, Beaument
Smith and other genial souls of the Imperial stock "Hamlet" at Koerner's seemed like a curtain raiser in which only the stars appear.

CONDITIONS WORSE THAN EVER.

One O'Clock Closing a Dead Letter and Social Evil Situation Aggravated by Disregard of the Law.

Before the congregation of the First Church of Spiritual Unity last night, at the Odeon, the Reverend James T. Coffey, pasfor of St. John's Catholic Church and acting president of the Law Enforcement League of St. Louis, laid the blame for the existence of vice throughout the city at he door of the Police Department and prominent local politicians, Reginning with an earnest plea for all t iterest themselves in the politics of the ty, the speaker stated that good people are always in the majority in every com-munity, and should, therefore, have a say bout the way things were run, instead of eaving it to saloonkeepers.

RECALLS RECENT HISTORY. The subject of Father Coffey's lectur Things in St. Louis." The Board of Police Commissioners and the Excise Officer were the main points of attack. He told of efforts to get these officials to try and close up notorious dives where every possible allure ment was offered for the destruction of youth and virtue. He told of how a docudeclaring that all places would be closed after I o'clock at night, with a clause forbidding the use of music of any kind at any time. He stated that a select few were allowed to run even then, and after a time the whole town was thrown open again and even protected. In graphic manner he reviewed the recent Fourth District expose, declaring that the traffic in young girls there now was even worse than before it was stirred up by Circuit Attorney Folk.

COURTS ARE INFLUENCED. The reason for these conditions, he de-clared, was because the saloonkeeper, the jailbird and the thug were dictating the course of the courts simply because certain political leaders needed their political patronage in order to win elections. "The only way to remedy the evil." said he in conclusion, "Is to bring the Police Department before the bar of justice. If we can't do that, the next best thing is to bring it before the bar of public opinion. These men, aithough some of them claim to be good church members, would be perfectly willing to go through life countenancing these evils, providing they would not be exposed. They dread publicity, and if we cannot enlist their help in uplifting and bettering the world we will have the satisfaction of placing them side by side with the evil they countenance." course of the courts simply because certain
